Greenbelt Arts Center Reveals Year's Drama Production Plans

by Sandy Smith

The Greenbelt Arts Center, which brings an array of performing arts to this city, has set its schedule for the 1991-1992 drama and music series. Beginning in September a dramatic or musical performance will be offered virtually each month in various locations in and around the Greenbelt community. The performances will be publicized throughout the city and the metropolitan area and season tickets will be offered as well as those for individual performances.

Organization

In developing its artistic program, the Arts Center has identified many opportunities for volunteers to take an active role in the arts program, to learn more about theater and its production, and to express their musical interests. Central to future plans for the Arts Center is the projected permanent home for its productions and performances, the "black box" theater, which is planned as part of the Greenbelt Community Center.

The Greenbelt Arts Center is guided by a Board of Directors, recently selected, and officers. These include Marie Tousignant, president; Virginia Zanner, vice president; Beatrix Whitehall, recording secretary; Frank Perlman, corresponding secretary; and Willard Larkin, treasurer. All members of the Greenbelt Arts Center are invited to periodic meetings to participate in program planning. Volunteers throughout the community are welcome to join in a wide variety of activities.

1991-1992 Drama Series

Mary Lou Fisher is season producer for the center's drama series. She is an experienced director, not only of Greenbelt productions. She has frequently directed NASA's MAD productions and those of other local theater groups. Fisher, one of the founders and developers of the Prince Georges Publick Playhouse is responsible for many aspects of its technical design. She welcomes newcomers to join in all aspects of the drama productions, emphasizing opportunities to learn about theater and to be part of a professional endeavor when involved in the drama series. She says, "We welcome experienced artistic and technical staff, but all we really require is interest, enthusiasm and some time—we will train and teach you all you need to know."

"Heaven Can Wait" is the first play of the 1991-1992 Drama Series. This touching comedy will be directed by veteran Marie Tousignant. Performances will be staged at the modern theater in nearby Capitol College. David Wilson is responsible for set design for this production. Performances are scheduled for the last two weekends in September and the first weekend in October. Greenbelters may be familiar with the story of "Heaven Can Wait" from the movie starring Warren Beatty, Dyan Cannon and Julie Christie or the earlier classic version, "Here Comes Mr. Jordan," with James Mason. Greenbelters cast in the production are Judy Holland as the messenger; John DeMeo as Tony; and David Wilson in a lead role as Joe Pendleton and Mrs. Farnsworth. Others from Greenbelt involved in the production are Trix Whitehall, Frank Perlman, Tom Zanner, Gerry Schmerl, Jeannette Connor, and Virginia Zanner.

Christmas Plays

The next dramatic production will be three Christmas one-acts: "Gift of the Magi," "Long Christmas Dinner," and "Dust of the Road." These plays will be performed in repertory with one cast, one crew. David Wilson directs and a producer is being sought for this performance, to be held in a Greenbelt loca-

School Board Hearing On Capital Improvements

The Board of Education of Prince Georges County will hold a public hearing on school construction and renovation projects proposed under the 1993-1998 Capital Improvement Program (CIP).

The hearing will be held on Thursday, September 19, beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the Sasser Administration Building, 14201 School Lane in Upper Marlboro.

Copies of the proposed CIP are available upon request from the Department of Public Affairs and Communications at 952-6000.

Individuals who wish to testify should register in advance by calling 952-6115. Individuals will be allotted three minutes of speaking time and five minutes if representing a group or organization.

The Capital Improvement Projects for Prince Georges County represent those projects requiring funding to maintain, improve, and expand educational facilities.

tion. Auditions will be held in October, with performances scheduled for early December.

A musical, "Taking My Turn," is scheduled for late February and early March. Mary Lou Fisher is director and Virginia Zanner is producer. Other key staff are: musical director, Martha Potter; assistant director, Gene Duarte; stage manager, Trix Whitehall; set designer and technical director, David Wilson. Auditions will be held in November. The musical will be performed at Capitol College.

Spring Classic

May will see a first for the Center, Shakespeare's "As You Like It," to be directed by Daniel Ornge, a well-known Shakespearean actor-about-town. Anyone interested in producing or staffing this undertaking should contact Mary Lou or Ben Fisher at 249-6942.

The 1991-1992 drama series closes with a children's production. This year's "Alice in Wonderland" was an artistic and audience success with many Greenbelt children in the various roles and responsible for production and stage management as well. Virginia Zanner directs the 1991-1992 production as she did "Alice" and is looking for suggestions for the coming year's play. The Children's Production will be held at Center School.

Thomas X. White On MML Board

Greenbelt Mayor pro tem Thomas X. White was elected to a 10th consecutive term as an at-large member of the Board of Directors of the Maryland Municipal League.

Greenbelt's Ben Rosenzweig Is 1991's Outstanding Citizen

by Virginia Beauchamp

The history of Greenbelt has been interwoven with the activities of the 1991 recipient of the Outstanding Citizen award since the very earliest days of this community—a connection that has existed right up to the present time. Whether the topic was housing, or financial backing, or providing a retail outlet, or enhancing a social organization—this citizen was involved. His name is Ben Rosenzweig, and practically everyone in town knows who he is. For Ben and his wife, Ethel, have lived in Greenbelt since 1938. All that time they have lived in the same house in the 4 Court of Crescent Rd., in the original A Block of the town development.

In announcing the name of the award recipient, Tom Renahan, chair of the committee to choose the Outstanding Citizen, read from the first issue of the Greenbelt Cooperator, the original name for the News Review, an often-quoted editorial entitled "We Pioneers." In the piece, writer Mary Van Cleve describes her fellow townspeople as "pioneers—of a new way of living. We are the sculptors," she wrote, "handling the clay of a new community."

Ben Rosenzweig was one of those pioneers, Renahan assured the crowd—one who early became active in working through cooperatives to solve community problems. For example, in the earliest times Rosenzweig worked as a staff member on the Cooperator. He was also a founding member of Greenbelt Consumer Services, developed by early settlers to provide a retail food store, gas station, and other services in town when Greenbelt was remote from any other city. He continued to serve on the board of GCS until 1984, when the cooperative gave up its grocery store.

He has also served in various ways in GHI through the years and was instrumental in the founding of the Greenbelt Credit Union, which provided loans to many town residents who, as World War II veterans, formed the housing cooperative in order to buy their homes from the federal government.

Always active in the Jewish community, Rosenzweig served several terms as president of what is now known as the Mishkan Torah congregation and helped in the physical labor of actually constructing the original building. He has also served since its beginning, in 1967, on the city's Community Relations Advisory Board. When his sons were young, he was active with the Boy Scouts.

Recently residents have noted his involvement in the committee on housing for the elderly, when he announced his interest through this paper's Letters-to-the-Editor columns.

As Renahan said in making the award, "Many have observed that his personal style is seldom quiet and never boring, and he See ROSENZWEIG, page 5, col. 3

Keep Guns Safe

Every law enforcement agency in the nation is striving to make the home safer when it comes to handguns. Every year children and adolescents are killed or injured by firearms kept in the home.

Unfortunately, those numbers include children of police officers. In an effort to safeguard the families of officers of the Greenbelt Police Department, gun locker security boxes have been issued to each officer for home security of their weapon while off duty. The boxes are of 24 gauge steel construction and have combination locks.

It is our position that the Police Department should set a safety example for the community. It is also our position that our employees and their families are an invaluable resource to us. The issuance of the gun locker security boxes will provide a higher degree of safety in the home than otherwise may have been available.

For more information, please contact the Greenbelt City Police Department at 507-6500.

Greenbelt Song

On behalf of the Greenbelt Sing-a-Long group, I want to thank Cheri Gainor, Bobbi McCarthy and the Festival Committee for the opportunity of singing a song entitled "Welcome to Greenbelt" for which I wrote the words to the tune of "Love Letters in the Sand."

It goes as follows:

Come on in, sit right down
And welcome to our town
Where we live and have fun—

Greenbelt

There's so much you can do
Play tennis, jogging, too,
In the town we all love—

Greenbelt

You can fish in the lake or swim
in the pool

But the best part of all
Is just being with you.
Come on in, sit right down
And welcome to our town

Where we live and have fun—

Greenbelt.

Those who sang were Michael Burchick, Jean Cook, Tony Fusco, Irene Pavlish, Louise Swiderski, Raymond and Rose Haber, Irving and Pearl Siegel, Philip Brandis, Paddy Bailey and Helen Oring.

Charles Granofsky

Former Greenbelter Charles Granofsky, 78, died on August 30 after a long illness. He was the husband of former News Review editor Mary Granofsky. They left Greenbelt in the mid-1970's when they moved to New Carrollton.

Granofsky was a violinist of some note. A scholarship student at Peabody Conservatory of Music in Baltimore from 1927 to 1934, he graduated with a B.A. in music from the University of Maryland. Following a few years in the Baltimore Symphony in the 1930's and a few in the National Symphony, he joined the Air Force Band, where he performed as leader of the Strolling Strings. As a member of the Strolling Strings he traveled throughout the United States and Europe, often performing at the White House, especially during the Kennedy administration, where the group was a favorite of the First Lady. He also taught instrumental music in the Prince Georges County public school system and directed vocal choruses. Greenbelters will remember some of his solo performances at civic and social events in the city.

At one time, Granofsky was concert master of the Prince Georges Philharmonic Orchestra.

A service was held on September 1 at Gasch's Funeral Home in Hyattsville. Following the formal service, nine of Granofsky's former colleagues from the Strolling Strings performed numbers, including the Barcarolle from "Tales of Hoffman" and "The Blue Danube Waltz," which he had arranged for the group. They concluded with one of his original compositions, "Fiddle Capers."

Granofsky is survived by his wife and two daughters from a former marriage, Persis Funk and Charlotte Hummon, two stepsons and two stepdaughters, five sisters, four brothers, 15 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Interment services will be held at Arlington National Cemetery on Friday, September 6 at 10 a.m.

Jane E. Sweeney

Jane E. Sweeney, 71, a long time resident of Greenbelt died August 29 at the Greenbelt Nursing Home after a long illness.

Mrs. Sweeney was born in Washington, D.C., October 4, 1920, and married Wallace Sweeney on October 12, 1940. In May of 1956 the Sweeneys moved to Greenbelt.

Mrs. Sweeney worked for 12 years at the Ben Franklin Five and Dime Store. One could always distinguish who Mrs. Sweeney was. She had short, red, curly hair and big beautiful blue eyes. Most of all she will be remembered for her deeply voiced laughter, which always seemed to be very contagious. Once meeting Mrs. Sweeney, not many forgot who she was; especially the children, for Mrs. Sweeney was known as "Mom Sweeney."

During the Sweeneys' 51 years of marriage, three daughters were born. Patricia E. resides in Greenbelt; Carol A. in Ladysmith, Va.; and Linda J. in Accokeek. Mrs. Sweeney is also survived by her husband, Wallace, two sisters, H. Virginia and Ruth Rittenour of Takoma Park, four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The family requests that donations be made in her name to the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department, 125 Crescent Road, Greenbelt, Md. 20770.

Family Gift HonorsEarly Postal Carrier

Recently the Friends of the Greenbelt Museum received a donation of $500 from the children of William S. Shields for a Roosevelt Club membership in his honor.

Part of the letter accompanying the donation reads as follows: "Many of Greenbelt's present and former citizens will remember Bill Shields as one of the city's first postal carriers (his service spanned more than half of Greenbelt's history). My brother and sisters and I are immensely proud of both our parents and their contributions to Greenbelt, especially the example they set as caring neighbors. Bill Shields ran his career the very same way—as a caring neighbor who not only saw that the mail got where it belonged (at the expense of his knees and elbows) but also got to know the residents and helped them on many occasions. Some of my fondest memories are of helping him assist a Greenbelter in the evening or on the weekend with a stubborn appliance or some other fix-it or move-it chore. He also was an assistant Scoutmaster, Troop 229. Thank you for this opportunity to recognize Bill Shields as a Greenbelt Pioneer who truly 'carried the mail' as a parent, as a neighbor, and as a servant of the community."

The Roosevelt Fund was established to permit individuals and families to make a special, one-time $500 contribution to the Greenbelt Museum. Those persons contributing to the Fund have their names displayed on a bronze plaque hanging in the museum. For information about the Roosevelt Fund or any other aspect of the museum call 474-1936 or 474-7951.

Greenbelt Grab Bag

by Punchin' Judy

Well, of course it's hot. Tell me something I don't know. It's so hot that the malls are melting. As of this writing the lake is steaming and there are sightings of Elvis rowing his guitar across the gently rippling waves.

Nevertheless, according to the meteorologists, although not according to astronomy, autumn begins on September 1. The way I see it, autumn really starts on July 5. As soon as the last fireworks are lit, we start thinking back to school; we attend end of summer sales; we shop at Christmas stores on our vacations; we start serious planning for the Labor Day Festival.

Personally, autumn makes me feel nostalgic, perhaps because I moved to Greenbelt on Labor Day weekend many years ago. Like this year, that August had been hot and rainless, but oh! the deluge on the date that my furniture was moved to its present location. There are still watermarks on my bedroom furniture!

I like almost everything about the beginning of fall; the hope of cooling nights, the flamboyant colors of the changing trees, the new crop of apples coming into the stores. There is one thing that used to distress me, but this year even this last regret has been removed. I used to dread the end of the swimming season, but at last help is at hand. Never again need there be an end to the swimming season in Greenbelt. We have got the mother of all pools right here in our town. Now when people think I am going off the deep end it will be true! Everybody into the water—see you in the hot tub! What a city!

Today's lesson: Always put your best foot forward. Which can only mean Stride Rite®. The styles kids want. The quality you want. In lots of sizes and widths, for the natural fit growing feet need. So make the smart choice. Stride Rite®

Renahan Appointed to County Human Relations Commission

by S.R. Cherry

Greenbelter Tom Renahan has been appointed to the Prince Georges County Human Relations Commission by County Executive Parris Glendening on the recommendation of Prince Georges County Council chair Richard Castaldi. Renahan lives in the Hunting Ridge development and came to Greenbelt in 1983.

The Commission was formed in 1972 and, according to Executive Director William Welch, its purpose is to protect and defend civil rights in the county. The Commission has a mediation board consisting of 13 members and has enforcement powers. They hear complaints that are certified to them by the court system, when the participants agree to have the matter settled by the Board. "Once disputes are settled by the Board, the court will usually dismiss the case," says Welch.

Some of the issues covered include property rights, boundary disputes and domestic conflicts. The Commission also offers assistance in leadership development for various organizations in prejudice reduction, leadership, mediation and conflict resolution.

The Appointment

Renahan says about working with the Board, "I find it very interesting and I particularly like the people that I'm serving with. They are most impressive in their interests and what they're doing in their own lives." He goes on to say, "It is very encouraging to be in a group of people who operate without regard to color lines and know that they mean what they say, and that it is really their commitment and not just something they are saying."

He does not envision a large number of complaints coming from the Greenbelt area because of its demographics. He is careful to point out that he makes this assessment because a large number of the cases that he has seen so far have been based on racial discrimination complaints.

Renahan is in training along with the other appointees to the Board and is to begin his duties in September.

Greenbelt Activities

Currently Renahan is Chairman of the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board (PRAB). The term ends in October in what he says is his second and last year chairing the organization; he was vice chairman for two years previously. As chair he writes reports to the City Council, makes follow-up phone calls on the organization's behalf throughout the month and tends to all other duties expected of the chair. Although the organization is a high priority, Renahan cites time management as his reason for not wishing to seek another term.

Another of his interests is the Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center. It is staffed by volunteers. He had been on the board and says that he's "anxious to see a performing arts facility built."

For the last few years Renahan has been responsible, as committee chair, for selection of Greenbelt's Outstanding Citizen Award. The awardee chosen is deemed to have made a significant long-term contribution to the community. From the beginning it was established that only one person would be chosen each year, with the exception of the second year, when a joint award was given. "The award is really intended to honor all of the outstanding citizens of Greenbelt, even though only one is added to the list of honorees on the plaque in City Hall," says Renahan.

Important Projects

Working with development projects gives Renahan insight on various issues. On the subject of Schrom Hills Park, he gets quite passionate about the lake, which he says, "Is the most Tom Renahan poses with two past outstanding citizens, Elaine Skolnik (left) and Mary Lou Williamson, at the start of the 1987 Labor Day Parade. Renahan chairs the Outstanding Citizens Committee.

Red Cross Offers Training for Disaster

During the month of October, the Prince Georges County Chapter of the American Red Cross will be holding classes for disaster training.

Participants will learn the role of the Red Cross within the community following natural disasters such as hurricanes, tornadoes and fires.

All classes are free and will be held at the chapter house at 6206 Belcrest Road in Hyattsville.

Those who successfully complete the training will be encouraged to join the Chapter's award-winning Disaster Action Team (DAT), a special group of volunteers who respond to local, as well as national disasters.

For more information, please call the emergency services services office at 559-8500.

GHI Board Reviews Contract Draft and Mortgage Lender

by Mary Moien

On August 8, the Board of Directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI) held the last of its monthly summer meetings. Topics on the agenda included the review of a draft new Mutual Ownership Contract, member requests to purchase the boiler rooms in their basements, and a request from a mortgage corporation to provide loans for GHI homes.

Mutual Ownership Contract

GHI staff have been working with the corporation attorney to draft a proposed Mutual Ownership Contract which will bring the existing document into compliance with current practice and also result in a more readable and understandable document. The discussion by the board of this draft included editorial and substantive comments including the use in the contract of words such as 'rent' instead of payments, which was thought to be confusing. Sections of the contract that covered monthly payments, maintenance and occupancy also came under scrutiny.

In reviewing the document Board President Wayne Williams commented on the frequently held misconception that GHI payments were due on the tenth of the month, not the first. Payments are due on the first, but GHI has a 10-day grace period. The grace period does not begin on the tenth.

There was also a lively discussion on the occupancy regulations as specified in the contract. Questions arose on temporary visitors, such as foreign exchange students. General Manager Ron Colton indicated that this section had not been changed and that GHI members have a responsibility to obtain GHI's written approval when having a person, not on the occupant list, stay in their home for a period of greater than 45 days.

Boiler Rooms

Selected homes with basements have a shared boiler room which has been unused since rehab. Two members with adjacent units on Crescent Road had applied to purchase the sections under their homes. The board had previously approved the sale of similar areas to other owners for the sum of $200. One sale was approved outright. The other request was tabled due to a violation of minimum yard standards.

New Mortgage Lender

Arbor National Mortgage Corporation, a New York-based mortgage company with an office in Rockville, is requesting that GHI enter into a recognition agreement to provide loans. Arbor has reviewed GHI corporate documents and found them satisfactory. Arbor, however, has not been willing to meet one of GHI's requirements which is to provide a copy of their financial statement. It was anticipated that a loan officer with the company would attend this meeting to respond to concerns. However, she was not present at the meeting.

Director Williams and other board members indicated that they were very interested in expanding the number of qualified sources of mortgages, but felt that GHI's requirements could not be overlooked. If something were to happen to a mortgage company, GHI would be affected even though the principal signer is the member who purchased the house. Williams also indicated that Arbor is a privately-held corporation and such corporations are often unwilling to share financial statements. That does not mean that there is anything wrong with the company, but GHI does need to protect itself. The board requested management to continue to press for a financial statement and to look into other ways that their financial standing might be verified.

Other Items

Each spring the National Co-operative Bank (NCB) conducts a nationwide scholarship contest in which high school seniors are encouraged to write essays on the cooperative form of business. The Greenbelt Consumer Cooperative (COOP) has requested that they and GHI jointly sponsor the program at Eleanor Roosevelt High School. The prize for the national winner is $1500. Board member Donald Comis agreed to act as the advisor/liaison with the school. Williams thought that there would be more interest if there could be a local winner as well. Staff will check with the NCB to see if this can be worked out.

The Audit Committee presented a report at the meeting which included recommendations in a number of areas. They encouraged the board to work on a five-year plan, with priority given to the maintenance department. They also suggested investigating the possibility of installing water-saving toilets; reinstating the exhaust fan program, or developing a new program for solving moisture problems; and providing refresher courses for all maintenance personnel.

GHI Ann. House And Garden Tour

by Kathryn Meckley

This spring 24 Greenbelt Homes, Inc. home owners participated in the annual House and Garden Tour, opening their homes and gardens for viewing by more than 150 visitors. To show appreciation and encourage future participation, each entrant was presented an azalea by the Aesthetics and Environment Committee (A&E).

Visitors were asked to vote for the best in three categories: Garden, Interior, and Overall. The winners were: Best Garden, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wells, of 1-B Westway; Best Interior, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Keane of 8-D Ridge Road; and Best Overall, Mr. and Mrs. James Maher of 9-A Hillside Road. The winners were presented with $25 gift certificates from Behnke's Nursery.

The GHI annual House and Garden Tours are conducted alternately, in the spring of one year and the fall of the next. The tours are held so GHI home owners can get ideas for remodeling, gardening, and landscaping and talk with the participants about costs and contractors.

These projects are particularly challenging to GHI home owners because any work done to the house or yard is subject to GHI as inspection by the technical rules and regulations, as well as services division.

The A&E Committee plans for the fall include seminars on remodeling, additions and energy conservation.

The next house and garden tour is planned for the fall of 1992.

Attention Prospective Home Buyers

Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI), one of the largest and most established housing cooperatives in the country, is offering brief and informative presentations designed to introduce GHI to you. The presentation will explain what a cooperative is, how GHI operates, what services are provided to GHI members under the monthly charges, and the financing sources which are available. This information will be useful to you whether or not you purchase a GHI home. This is an ideal opportunity for persons who are considering home ownership to learn about GHI and to ask questions in a relaxed atmosphere. Let us introduce you to the cooperative lifestyle BEFORE you look for a home. The next presentations will be held on:

Saturday, September 21

11:00 a.m.

Please call receptionist at 474-4161 for reservations and information. The sessions are free, and there is no obligation.
